

December 11 - 12, 2017
New York Marriott at The Brooklyn Bridge
<http://events.solar/newyork/>

Volunteers at Solar Power New York have the unique and exciting opportunity to play an active role in New York's premier solar business-to-business event, focused on the exponential growth of the solar industry in the state. It takes a diverse group of volunteers to support our goals – we hope you can join us!

Who can volunteer?

Volunteer positions are open to current students or recent graduates; this includes all degree programs.

Why volunteer?

As a volunteer, you will have the opportunity to do the following:

- Network with industry professionals
- Work with like-minded, dedicated students to develop career-long relationships
- Gain leadership visibility
- Receive a complimentary Full Conference registration pass, which includes access to the educational sessions; Exhibit Hall; General Session; and networking receptions and lunches

Application Process:

Email education@solarenergytradeshows.com with answers to the following questions:

1. Your name and school or work affiliation
2. 1-2 paragraphs detailing why you are interested in volunteering
3. Whether you are local or can easily commute to the event

Time Commitment:

Volunteers will be scheduled to work approximately 10-12 hours split between December 11-12. Applicants who are not available for this entire time-frame will not be considered. The conference schedule can be found here.

Requirements:

- Possess strong organizational, time management, communication, and interpersonal skills
- Comfortable with communicating in English
- Able to work independently and as a member of a team
- Some familiarity with the solar industry
- Capable of sitting and standing for long periods and lifting up to 20 lbs.

Expenses:

In appreciation of your volunteer commitment, you will receive a complimentary Full Conference Registration pass ($500 value). Solar Power New York does not reimburse volunteers for travel, lodging, or other expenses associated with volunteering at the conference. Meals are not provided, other than the meals included in the Full Conference registration pass. Please keep this in mind when contemplating your volunteer commitment.