

Solar Lunch & Learn At Champlain College

Champlain College has invited SunCommon to present to faculty and staff on why we're seeing so much solar in Vermont. We will explore the state and federal programs that support solar and will discuss the solar equipment and technology available to Vermonters today. We'll also take a look forward as to where the renewable energy industry is headed in Vermont and across the country. This is a brown bag lunch, so feel free to bring your lunch in for the presentation. SunCommon will provide light refreshments.

Wed. November 15th 12:30–1:30PM
